EVERY CHILD MATTERS

Are we truly ensuring that every child receives what really matters?

In a country making great advancements, there are still several underserved regions where children go to school on an empty stomach. Over a decade ago, we recognised this critical yet overlooked need and launched the Morning Nutrition Programme in 2015 for school-going children because hunger should not hinder education.

While the programme now serves 1 Crore children across India, we recognise that much more remains to be done, and addressing such a mammoth task requires collective effort. With strong support from government collaborations and partners such as VOLVO GROUP CSR TRUST (INDIA) under its CSR initiatives, the Trust continues to expand its reach and impact.

This partnership reflects how corporate support and grassroots implementation can create meaningful and sustainable change—because every child matters. 🌱

India is singularly blessed with a CSR Policy, which is succeeding in India as it is in the very ethos of the Indian ecosystem. It is not just a compliance but a commitment to a better future. Not just an expenditure, but it is empowering the nation with better strategies.

There are plenty of wonderful organisations in this country, working for causes and many work with the Annapoorna Trust as they find the right match with the ideas, philosophy, and implementation capacities.

Together, we can create a future where everybody is included and nobody is excluded, and especially make sure that every child has access to the basics of life, nutrition, education, and healthcare. We should grow equitably.

We cannot transform society alone, but together we can do anything. That is the power of collaboration. After all, “The World is one Family”.

WHY MORNING HUNGER?

Morning Meal is deemed the most critical meal of the day and is often skipped by many children, especially in the rural and impoverished regions of India, due to the challenging family circumstances. The concept of Morning Nutrition emerged as a unique and relevant solution to address children attending school on an empty stomach.

OUR VISION

Our vision is simple yet profound –
“Let no child go to school hungry ever!”

While the initiative began in India, our vision extends beyond borders, embracing the belief that the whole world is one family, and that every child deserves the opportunity to learn without hunger.

Today, our work spans across 25 States and 4 Union Territories across India.

The programme provides a nutritious, fortified millet-based morning drink “SaiSure” to children in government schools, helping them start the day energised and ready to learn.

From remote rural villages to the high-altitude regions of Leh, the programme continues to reach children where support is needed most.

Benefits of Consuming SaiSure

SaiSure and its Contents

SaiSure Multinutrient Health mix provides a blend of energy, balanced carbohydrates and dietary fibre, supporting sustained energy for children. This is also enriched with essential minerals such as calcium, iron, zinc, and iodine, along with key vitamins A, B-complex, C, and D to support growth, immunity, and overall health. The formulation contains no added sugar and zero trans fat, making it a healthy nutritional supplement.

Fortification Process

SaiSure Nutritions LLP fortifies the Ragi Millet with essential vitamins and minerals through a standardised fortification process to enhance its nutritional value. This ensures the fortified mix provides balanced micronutrients that supports the growth, immunity, and overall health of children.

Ragi from Tiptur farmers at MLP (Minimum Livelihood Price)

Tiptur in Karnataka is known for its excellent ragi farming. Sri Sathya Sai Annapoorna Trust sources ragi directly from nearby farmers in the region, ensuring steady support for the farming community while procuring nutritious grains at slightly higher than the Government usually pays, which is at MLP. The sourced ragi is then utilized in the Trust's nutrition program to deliver healthy morning nourishment to government school children.
